

The League of Women Voters[®] of Evanston

2009 United States Constitution Contest

Your RIGHTS, your REASONS

This Year's Constitution Contest Question:

Members of the U. S. Supreme Court make decisions that require interpreting the United States Constitution. For example, citizens have the First Amendment right to freedom of speech, but they are not allowed to use that freedom to create a panic in an enclosed space.

Which amendment do you think presents the greatest challenge in balancing the rights of competing interests?